

This week, we begin two new series: Scripture and Authority & Law and Gospel—two intersecting areas. So, over the next few weeks, questions will overlap these related topics.

We begin by examining the authority of Scripture, on which stands the credibility of the answers our pastors provide. In today's Conversation, the Director of Communications (Dr. T) puts one of these fundamental questions to Rev. Gregory Johnson:

Dr. T: Why is Scripture the final authority for faith?

Rev. Johnson: Hear what Rev. Gregory Johnson has to say here.

Rev. Gregory C. Johnson pastors Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, New Westminster, British Columbia.

Have you ever wondered how we got the Scriptures in the first instance? Someone did and we have the answer! We'll explore that in our next Conversation.
