

In our last entry in the series, Law and Gospel, we learnt what Law is, and many of us probably think we know what Gospel is, but do we know how to separate ‘Gospel’ from ‘good advice’? The Director of Communications (Dr. T) puts that foundational question to Rev. Michael Schutz in today’s Conversation.

Dr. T: How is the Gospel different from good advice?

Rev. Schutz: Listen to what Rev. Michael Schutz has to say here.

Rev. Michael Schutz serves as Lead Pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church in Penticton, BC, and is the current Vice-President of Lutheran Church–Canada. In the Fall, he will step into the role of Regional Pastor for the West Region.

We continue to understand the important distinction between Law and Gospel. Now the question you’re probably asking—as others have—is: why do we even insist on a distinction between Law and Gospel? We’ll get one of our pastors to answer that in our next Conversation, as we continue our journey back to basics.
